Our Mission is to provide a dynamic and richly individualized educational experience for all children.

We seek through a model of true inclusion and a personal learning plan to foster the greatest possible development of each child with equal dedication to those with disabilities;

Is your child getting enough attention at school?
Is your child being academically challenged?
Is your child making friends?
Would your child do better in a small, personal school setting?

If you ask yourself these questions, you are not alone. CDCH parents are glad they did.

The Child Development Center of the Hamptons (CDCH) has grown into the essential educational and therapeutic resource for children and families on the East End of Long Island.

More than a school, CDCH provides a place where all children feel nurtured and confident in their potential to succeed.

CDCH provides families with a quality, public education with the class sizes, innovative programs and individual attention that all parents desire for their children.

to teach responsibility and compassion;

and, to promote within each student a lifelong love for learning and for the continued betterment of self and the world.
